

Minnesota Catholic Conference seeks Communications Intern(s)

Ongoing Opportunities Available

Are you looking to learn more about the intersection of your Catholic faith with policy and society, while building your communications skill-set in a professional environment? Consider interning with the Minnesota Catholic Conference, the official public policy voice of the Catholic Church in Minnesota. We're on the cutting edge of advocacy and catechesis communications and are looking for talented and enthusiastic interns to join us.

Communications interns will contribute to MCC's apostolate by aiding our efforts to communicate the Church's social vision and advocacy efforts to a variety of audiences, including Minnesota Catholics, the state legislature, and the media. Communications interns will contribute to the daily and ongoing communications needs of MCC, while also working on special projects in any number of the following areas:

- Website design and development
- Brand identity enhancement
- Videography
- Photography
- Podcasting
- Press relations
- Writing and editing
- Social media strategy and innovation
- Graphic design
- Database and advocacy platform reorganization

The internship is meant to be a positive experience for you. MCC will provide you with meaningful opportunities to put your strengths into action, while also offering professional development and opportunities for growth across the board.

Qualified candidates will have a deep interest in and commitment to the Catholic faith, particularly as it applies to politics and society; will possess communications skills and abilities in at least some of the aforementioned areas (and a desire to grow in others); and will bring a track record of hard-work, creativity, and positivity.

The internship is unpaid, though a stipend may be offered at its conclusion. Interns are expected to work a consistent weekly schedule, but time, hours, and duration are negotiable.

If interested, please submit the following to Maggee Becker at mbecker@mncatholic.org

Contact Maggee Becker with any questions.

God bless,
